Main Street Community Center: Group & Social Activities Suspended Until Further Notice Home-Delivered Meals, Transportation & Assistance Appointments Will Continue at this Time

Edwardsville, IL – On recommendation by the Illinois Department of Public Health, the Illinois Department on Aging and the CDC, Main Street Community Center will be suspending all group and social activities until further notice due to the COVID-19 virus, including congregate meals. Essential services will continue at this time. Those services include: home-delivered meals, commodity food boxes, transportation, and assistance appointments (tax preparation, paralegal services, benefit access, utility assistance and senior health assistance programs).

Shelf stable food is being delivered to home-delivered meal clients to supplement the delivered meals and assist them with pantry items since they are in a high-risk population and are discouraged from getting out in the public as much as possible to reduce their risk.

Status changes will be posted on the Center website (www.mainstcc.org), Center Facebook page, in press releases to local media outlets, and communicated via email to those on the Center email list.

If you have questions or need additional information, please contact the Center: 618-656-0300 or info@mainstcc.org.
